AS I SEE IT- STEVEN LENERS, ENERGY OPERATIONS MANAGER

Announcement-

On our website you can make payments and now even place an order. When you log in you would click on the energy section and select the tank you want filled, it will show a estimated % full if it is a propane tank. We are also working on all monitors to be able to talk with our system to show the percentage that the monitor is reading on there. This will help us efficiently deliver to everyone.

Today's Market News -

WTI crude oil fell sharply Tuesday, dropping 3.5% per barrel, as improving Middle East crude flows eased concerns about near-term supply shortages. Saudi Arabia resumed tanker loadings from its Red Sea port of Yanbu after restarting the East-West Pipeline, while overall Middle East crude exports climbed to their highest level since the U.S.-Israeli war with Iran began in February. Continued U.S.-Iran negotiations also pressured WTI as traders saw the possibility of diplomacy reducing the geopolitical risk premium, although President Trump said he had offered Iran no concessions to end the conflict. Despite Tuesday's decline, WTI was still on track for a roughly 4% monthly gain, reflecting persistent concern that the war could again disrupt regional oil supplies. Diesel markets remain unusually tight, with U.S. diesel futures rising 2.6% as the White House considers broader sales of red-dyed diesel and pushes.

PROPANE

Propane has been inching up recently as demand increases with harvest upon us. It has not followed crude as it typically does, but in the last few days of trading it has started too.

The Diesel fuel markets are up and down like a rollercoaster over the past few weeks, more on the upside than downside.

There is still time to contract if you haven't already.

W & H Coop will be going to a quarterly newsletter.

We will continue to send out our market updates as the price changes and or there are changes in the markets. If you would like to be added to the market update list, please text or call Justin at 515-302-1797 or email at jventeicher@whcoop.com and we will get you added to the updates.
